Privacy Policy

It is a top priority for Wildlands Conservancy to respect the privacy of our donors. Wildlands Conservancy, and members of its staff and Board of Directors, adheres to strict guidelines to keep donor information secure. The following are some guidelines Wildlands Conservancy uses:

- All information concerning donors or prospective donors, including their names, addresses, and telephone numbers, the names of their beneficiaries, the amount of their gift, etc. shall be kept strictly confidential by Wildlands Conservancy staff members and close members of the organization who are informed on the proper handling of donor information and who have access to that information.

- All information is stored in a secured, password-protected database accessed by only authorized personnel. All information collected is utilized for future communications with the individual, business, and/or entity.

- Donors can contact the Wildlands Conservancy’s Development Department at any time to remove their name from mailings, to make corrections to name listings or to inform the staff of any concerns they may have. Interested parties can contact the Development Department at 610.965.4397, ext. 126.

- We will safeguard, according to strict standards of security and confidentiality, any information our members and donors share with us.

- All gift solicitation materials will include the option for donors to remain anonymous or to make changes to their personal information.

- Wildlands Conservancy does not sell, rent or trade donor information.

- All financial contribution transactions are handled through PayPal and are subject to PayPal’s privacy policy (which is linked on Wildlands’ donation page).
